PREFACE

South Australian Economic Indicators is a monthly publication which contains the latest available data at the time of preparation for a range of statistical series that have been identified as indicators of economic activity in this State. In a number of cases the figures presented are preliminary and subject to revision in subsequent issues.

Written and graphic commentary have been included for many of the selected series and analysis has been augmented with the calculation of the percentage change from the previous reference period together with the presentation of comparative Australian data. Time series information has been included to provide a historical perspective on many of the selected indicators. Future issues may be expanded to include further historical data in response to expressed user needs. This product is under continuous review and any suggestions for enhancement will be welcomed.

This issue incorporates the revised format for the presentation of retail trade statistics. Following each Retail Census (last conducted for the period 1991-92), the Retail Trade survey undergoes a review. These reviews encompass statistical, technological, data collection and data release issues and take into account users' views on retail statistics. Presentation of the data now focuses on industry groups rather than individual retail industries. Further details can be obtained from the Information Paper, Introduction Of Improved Monthly Retail Trade Statistics (8511.0)

More detailed information on each series (including explanatory and technical notes) can be obtained from other Australian Bureau of Statistics publications or alternative data sources. To assist those seeking further information a source publication for each of the series has been documented in the statistical summary.

This issue includes a special article entitled Grape Growing and Wine Production 1993-94. Future issues will contain further articles on statistical topics which concentrate on longer term trends or other issues pertinent to the South Australian economy.

If you have any inquiries concerning this publication please contact the editor, Brian Moody, telephone (08) 237 7315. All requests for statistical information should be directed to the ABS Information Service, GPO Box 2272 Adelaide SA 5001, telephone (08) 237 7100.

Grape Growing and Wine Production 1993-94

Grape Growing

Preliminary information from the 1993-94 Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS) Viticulture collection indicates that Australia's grapegrowers had 68,000 hectares cultivated to vines, 6,000 hectares of which were not yet bearing grapes.

AREA AND PRODUCTION OF VINEYARDS SOUTH AUSTRALIA AND AUSTRALIA, 1993-94

At 29,480 hectares South Australia had the largest total area of vines of all the States and Territories. Three-quarters of Australia's grape vines are planted in South Australia and Victoria. The total area of vines in Australia is still lower than in the 1970s following the vine grubblings that took place during the 1980s.

Wine Production

Each financial year the ABS also collects statistics on wine production, grapes crushed, spirit production and usage from winemaking enterprises who crush more than 400 tonnes of grapes. The data are collected on a location basis and where possible are published for the major wine producing regions.

Beverage Wine

A record volume of 530.5 million litres of beverage wine was produced in Australia in 1993-94, an increase of 28 per cent over 1992-93. The increased production was greatly influenced by a favourable grape harvest and also reflected a planned upward shift in production by wineries.

BEVERAGE WINE PRODUCTION, STATES

The 1993-94 production of beverage wine in South Australia was also a record at 259.7 million litres, an increase of 86.4 million litres (50%) from 1992-93. Fortified wine production increased by 11.3 million litres (127%) to 20.1 million litres, while production of unfortified wine rose 75.1 million litres (46%) to a record 239.5 million litres.

South Australia remained the major beverage wine producer of the States and Territories with almost 50% of the Australian total. All South Australian wine producing regions reported an increase in the production of beverage wine in 1993-94. The table below shows the regional production for 1993-94 and the percentage change from 1992-93.

BEVERAGE WINE PRODUCTION, SOUTH AUSTRALIA REGIONS

Region	Production 1993-94 ('000 litres)	Increase from 1992-93 %
Adelaide Statistical Division and Fleurieu Subdivision	30,174	57
Barossa Subdivision	121,330	35
Riverland Subdivision	75,302	80
Lower North and South East Subdivisions	32,858	47
Total South Australia	259,663	50

Distillation Wine and Spirits

The production of distillation wine in 1993-94 for South Australia was 41.4 million litres, an increase of 22%, or 7.5 million litres from the previous year. This compared with an increase of 21% for the total Australian distillation wine production, from 47.0 million litres in 1992-93 to 56.8 million litres in 1993-94.

Brandy production for Australia in 1993-94 was 1.5 million litres of alcohol, an increase of 20% over 1992-93. Grape spirit production also increased in 1993-94 by 34% to 6.2 million litres of alcohol. This followed four years of declining production from 1988-89. South Australia was the main producer of these products with 94% (1.4 m litres of alcohol) of brandy and over two-thirds of grape spirit made.

Grapes Crushed

The South Australian crush increased by 36%, from 282,185 tonnes in 1992-93 to 384,666 tonnes in 1993-94. South Australian wineries crushing between 50 and 400 tonnes crushed an additional 5,358 tonnes.

WINE PRODUCTION FRESH GRAPES CRUSHED South Australia and Australia

Each of the major wine producing areas reported an increase in the quantity of grapes crushed as follows:

Region	Grapes Crushed 1993-94 (tonnes)	Increase from 1992-93 %
Adelaide Statistical Division and Fleurieu Subdivision	35,571	57
Barossa Subdivision	133,103	32
Riverland Subdivision	162,332	34
Lower North Subdivision	9,817	39
South East Subdivision	43,843	45
Total South Australia	384,666	36

Wine Stocks

Data relating to the level of stocks of wine and brandy are collected from winemaking enterprises who have had domestic sales of wine greater than 250,000 litres in the past financial year. Data are at the Australian level only.

Total beverage wine stocks held by winemakers in Australia at 30 June 1994 were a record 669.2 million litres, a 12% or 70.6 million litres increase from stocks at 30 June 1993. The significant increase in wine stocks followed a slight decline between June 1992 and June 1993 and continued the growth in wine stocks evident since 1988.

Table wine constituted 77% of all wine held in stock, 13% was fortified wine, while most of the remainder was sparkling wine. Table wine stocks increased by 15% to 516.6 million litres in 1993-94.

Domestic Sales

Data relating to domestic sales of Australian wine are collected from winemaking enterprises who have had domestic sales greater than 250,000 litres in the past financial year. Data are at the Australian level only.

As can be seen from the following table domestic sales of Australian wine have been steady in recent years while brandy sales have declined.

DOMESTIC SALES OF AUSTRALIAN WINE AND BRANDY BY WINEMAKERS

Year	Wine ('000 litres)	Brandy ('000L al)
1988-89	309,129	1,669
1989-90	300,609	1,613
1990-91	296,272	1,444
1991-92	314,830	1,380
1992-93	312,081	1,312
1993-94	319,519	1,301

Although, overall wine sales have been steady in recent years, changes in consumer preference have emerged. For table wine sales, which account for around 80% of total wine sales, white wine sales have decreased by 16.3 million litres (8%) since 1985-86 while sales of red table wine have increased by 20.2 million litres (54%).

Exports

Although domestic sales have shown little movement over the last few years, the volume and value of wine exports have increased markedly with about two-thirds of wine exports being produced in South Australia. The value of Australian wine exports totalled $114.5 million in 1988-89 including $71.4 million from South Australia while in 1993-94 these values had risen to $368.4 million and $238.4 million respectively.

WINE EXPORTS South Australia and Australia

South Australia continued to be the predominant source of Australian wine exports in 1993-94 supplying 87 million litres representing 65% of the Australian total. The following table shows the countries of destination of the majority of South Australian wine exports in 1993-94.
